My project for a new land settlement of eleven families in Eugendorf focussed on an artistic expression of airy elements perceived in a modern village square.

The form I chose for the location's quality of wellbeing with air, was a prepared marmoreal stone, which I positioned in the villages center. This stone supports the „genius loci“, the young villages good mood, family life, community and serendipity with a consciously set balancing and centering symbol.

The geomantic symbol carved in that stone got the name „Kosmogramm“.
